Fulfilment, Belonging, Independence

Ickburgh School: Vision, Values and Aims

Vision

Ickburgh School: A place where all pupils and staff members find Fulfilment, Belonging, and Independence.

Values

Fulfilment

I feel a deep and nourishing sense of fulfilment, through achieving meaningful outcomes.

Belonging

I belong to something bigger than myself; a community of diversity, tolerance and respect, where difference is celebrated.

Independence

I am as independent as I can be in achieving my outcomes, and I'm nurtured to develop my own personality, interests, and talents.

Aims

To deliver this for our pupils and staff members, we aim to be a world class centre of excellence by:

- Establishing the school as an outward-facing learning community, constantly seeking to improve its practice by reflection, evaluation and innovation.
- Working in partnership with, and drawing on the expertise of, parents, other agencies and the wider community.
- And, most importantly, placing pupils at the heart of everything we do.

Music is not just a source of joy and pleasure for our school community, but is woven into the fabric of every day. Music is the way many of our pupils understand and recognise different places and activities, and helps them to feel confident and secure in approaching change. For some of our pupils it is a significant part of how they communicate and express themselves.

We believe that our pupils are entitled to the very best opportunities to perform and enjoy performances, and the plan that follows sets out how we intend to continue and build on this rich tradition at Ickburgh School

MUSIC, ART & PERFORMING ARTS AT ICKBURGH

Mission Statement

Fulfilment: Performing brings enjoyment and pride. Pupils/ students have the options to choose and explore a range of different instruments and music technology. Our assessment data shows excellent levels of achievement in Performing Arts subjects. We offer a range of extra-curricular opportunities such as: arts educational visits out of school for festivals such as the 'I am Festival' at the Tate Modern, Hackney Music Festival, London Symphony Orchestra project, in school performances from external musicians and in school concerts for pupils/ students to showcase their work.

Belonging: School performances bring the acceptance and tangible sense of community. Our school song, sung at assemblies, brings the school community together. Our range of Music styles, festival music and famous musicians focused on in our curriculum, appeals to a range of cultural backgrounds.

Independence

Music and Performing Arts is also an avenue for pupils to explore their own talent, interests, and self-expression.
