Young Hackney Summer Activities Guide 2020

Welcome note from the Deputy Mayor

THIS summer is going to be a summer like no other. After long months under lock down, you will hopefully be able to see more of your friends again, and even though the normal summer activities will be on hold this year there's still so much to look forward to.

As young people, your response to coronavirus has been outstanding. From staying home during lockdown, doing school work at home and supporting each other to showing your appreciation of the borough's hardworking NHS and front line staff and creating amazing artwork for our competitions, you have been doing your bit to keep Hackney safe.

We know that many of you will still be concerned and might be finding it difficult to cope with what's going on across the world. We want you to know that our Young Hackney workers are here to help and support you.

The Council has been working with schools and local organisations to come up with lots of activities that can take place in safe spaces over the summer holiday. In addition to everything in this guide, we are funding 16 schools to run targeted summer activities and this will support over 600 children and young people in Hackney.

So whether it's doing kick-ups, spoken word, creating a new play on wellbeing, learning how to skateboard, or just having fun with other young people, there is something for everyone. Best of all, most of these activities are free.

Young people are Hackney's greatest asset, and we want to make sure you have a good summer. As well as keeping you busy with activities, our youth hubs will be offering support to young people all summer long. Staff at the hubs can offer advice on lots of different things, from careers to healthy eating, or can just be someone to talk to.

So have a look at the guide and use it to make the most of your time off school or college. I wish you all a happy and enjoyable summer.

Deputy Mayor Antoinette Bramble

Hackney Youth Parliament

Remember... the future belongs to us!

THIS year summer comes with a sense of uncertainty and in the midst of a pandemic, can we still enjoy it? And how do we as young people use our voices for something positive? We hope our lockdown experiences at Hackney Youth Parliament can give you some insight into the amazing things you too can get involved with this summer.

Covid-19 turned our lives upside down and on 20 May, we held a roundtable meeting with senior staff at Hackney to discuss its impact on our schools and education. To be honest, we left dissatisfied with the meeting as so much remains unclear. Similarly, we attended a meeting with the police and were again disappointed by what we felt was a lack of accountability for improving relations between police and young people.

These meetings got us thinking: how can we incite change where there seems to be a lack of acknowledgement from those people.

Recently we supported the Youth Opportunity Fund to grant nearly £80,000 to over 50 incredible projects thought up by young people for young people.

Proving once again how inspiring the youth of Hackney really are! We also helped organise a weekly art competition and asked young people to creatively capture their feelings during this time. The entries submitted for the art competition were incredible!

We have been really inspired by the presence of the youth voice and action during this pandemic both globally and locally! Young people have also utilised their right to protest, in-person and digitally, to raise awareness and stand in solidarity with the Black Lives Matter movement. There are big issues that need to be addressed

Abdullahi Yussuf & Aleigha Reeves, members of Hackney Youth Parliament

but HYP has no doubt that young people will be at the forefront of these changes. For example, Joshua Brown-Smith is campaigning to keep free bus travel for under 18s. You can support him by signing his petition at: <https://www.change.org/p/boris-johnson-suspended-children-s-free-bus-pass> and sharing it with your friends.

There are lots of amazing young people in Hackney and we want to thank you for inspiring us through lockdown. We promise to continue to amplify your voices. Throughout the summer, HYP will be holding a programme for young people to 'talk politics' and we will also be recruiting new members! If you're passionate about your community and want to be a part of creating positive change, please visit <https://www.younghackney.org/get-involved/> for more information.

Our political education must be ongoing and not just another trend like Tiger King... Remember, WE ARE THE FUTURE!

We hope this guide can support you to have another great summer full of fun, whilst social distancing of course!

Lockdown Archive!

Lockdown gallery

Our online art competition was all about imagination! We wanted to help give young people a creative outlet during lockdown as well as document their honest thoughts and feelings at the time. We had an overwhelming amount of entries from children and young people of all ages across the borough. All the artwork submitted was of an amazing standard and included drawings, photographs, paintings and poems based on a theme set each week. These themes varied from 'Portraits' to 'What can you see outside your bedroom window?'. Our judges were so blown away by the artwork sent in, that often even those who didn't win the round received special recognition and prizes. We want to thank everyone who entered and participated in creating Hackney's very own Lockdown Archive.

Mental Health support

Speaking about emotional wellbeing

It's fair to say the last four months have been a challenge for us all and we understand that everyone has been affected differently. Which is why now more than ever, we must not only be kind to each-other but also kind to ourselves and our mental health.

It is okay not to be okay but often talking to someone can help. This might be a friend or a family member or sometimes having someone else can be most helpful.

If you would like to speak to us directly about your emotional well-being or the emotional well-being of a child or young person you know please call us on 020 8356 7404, Mon-Fri 9am-5pm. Young people can also access one-to-one drop-in sessions via our online hub every Wednesday 4pm-5pm with the Health & Well-being Team. For more, visit: <https://www.younghackney.org/campaign/online-youth-hub>

Young people can also self refer to Kooth, an online counselling and emotional well-being platform accessible through mobile, tablet and desktop. Speak to friendly counsellors and access articles, self-help materials, advice and community forums. It is free and anonymous.

For more details, visit: <https://www.kooth.com> Additionally the new Child and Adolescent

Mental Health Services (CAMHS) Alliance website for City & Hackney is now live. The website contains information about mental health support services for parents, young people, children and professionals. For more information, visit: <https://cityandhackneycamhs.org.uk>

Our annual careers festival is back!

Summer Careers Festival

21 August, Fri, 12noon-3.30pm, Forest Road Youth Hub

Receiving your exams results and figuring out what your next steps are can be extremely overwhelming. This year will be even harder for many young people due to changes regarding education and exams because of coronavirus. We understand how much this will affect you and want to help you find the next steps that best suit you after results day, whether that be college, university, an apprenticeship or employment. You will be able to access free expert advice and guidance, and speak to professional careers advisers from Prospects. Local colleges and training providers will also be on hand to talk about the opportunities they are offering. With the present coronavirus restrictions the festival will be a combination of face-to-face and virtual sessions. For more information please contact jim.ansbury@prospects.gov.uk or visit <http://www.younghackney.org/summer-careers-festival/>

Age: 16+
